

This is a printer friendly version of an article from www.theroyalgazette.com

Back

Article published July 18. 2007 12:45PM

Learn salsa in just five minutes

By René Hill

If you ever thought that salsa was something that you wanted to learn, but just could not devote the time to, then learning salsa in five minutes might be the thing for you.

BermudaSalsa.com, SalsaMania Productions and the Sabor Dance School are planning the Island's biggest salsa dance social in Bermuda tonight Harbour Nights.

Organisers have said that everyone is invited and they are claiming that they can teach anyone to dance salsa in just five minutes.

Along with the lessons, the evening promises to be spectacular and will feature live entertainment by professional dancers, exciting announcements and giveaways, followed by social dancing in the street.

"We are so excited to be able to share our passion for Latin dance at Harbour Nights," said Angela Hayward, director of Sabor Dance School.

"We are confident that we can teach anyone to dance in five minutes. Of course, if people enjoy what they've learned, they're welcome to attend the Sabor Dance School at the Bermuda College to build on that foundation and for those who wish to learn at home, Sabor is delighted to announce that we will be launching the sale of our first ever salsa instructional DVD!"

Many students of the Sabor Dance School go on to join the Sabor Dance Company where they perform both at home and abroad, she added.

"The senior students of the Sabor Dance School will be giving the audience an exclusive sneak preview of the dance numbers they will be performing at Mambo Nights, which will take place on August 17 and 18, at the Fairmont Southampton Mid Ocean Amphitheatre."

For those who are interested in learning more about the activities of the BermudaSalsa.com Group, the new and improved website has been launched today.

Ms Hayward said it is the one-stop shop for all things relating to the Group's offerings. It also features a schedule of classes for Sabor's fall semester, which begins after Labour

Day.

DVD's can also be purchased online, as well as tickets for Mambo Nights, and other events.

The heart and soul of Latin dance is the music which inspires the movement.

So, the creative minds behind SalsaMania Productions forged a partnership with the exciting new radio station Magic 102.7 to bring Bermuda a two hour radio programme called 'SalsaMania's Latin Flavours' hosted by Travis Gilbert and Marshall Weller. Saturday 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Tickets for Mambo Nights go on sale today and can be ordered online at www.bermudasalsa.com or can be purchased at Portofino Restaurant, Music World, Secrets and The Sabor Dance School.
